8. What are the strengths of the course?

- The strength of this course were the flipped Fridays.
- In class learning
- Professor is very welcoming and helpful Course is very organized and sticks strictly to that syllabus
- There is a lot of class discussion that promotes learning and questions. We talked a lot about every point taught to us so everything was easy to remember and take in.
- The strengths of the course had to be the Scholarly-Note Shout-Outs that allowed us to get out of our comfort zone and prove what we have learned outside of class time.
- - detail feedback - the course work followed the syllabus perfectly!!!!!! so many professors get off track but she followed along!
- The course provided me with a clear picture of the bible, a deeper study that is just not on the surface the assignments given made me think critically and analyse the texts more carefully. This course gave me a whole new perspective on reading the bible, knowing that there is more than what the eye meets
- Love Dr. LOW
- Enthusiastic professor.

9. What are your suggestions for improving this course?

- There is nothing outstanding I can think of that needs improvement.
- I personally did not like how many articles we had to read for certain assignments. There would be a lot of articles for one assignment and we had to read all of them before starting the assignment, but it turned out we might only need one or two of the eight or ten articles.
- - multiple choice hw assignments due after we finish a book in the bible
- The is excellent as it is in my personal opinion.

10. Additional comments regarding any of the above statements (1-7) or any other feedback that you would like to provide.

- This was a great and fun class.
- I liked the class, especially because I went to a Christian school so I knew what the class was about.
- I enjoyed every class, every day I learned something new. The NOAB provided a lot of new insights and I feel that it was a sufficient resource for the course
